Mari: Good morning, Paul.

Paul: Hi, Mari! What a wonderful day!

Mari: Well, you are in a good mood for a Monday. Did something nice happen?

Paul: Yes, I am, and yes, it did.

Mari: Okay, Paul, tell me your news.

Paul: Well, Mari, you know that I like to recycle and reuse things.

Mari: Yes, I know you love flea markets. Did you buy some new old clothes?

Paul: Something better! I got some cups.

Mari: Cups, like Japanese sake cups?

Paul: No, cups as a prize for sport.

Mari: Oh, sports trophies! What's so special about them?

Paul: Well, firstly, they are beautifully made. And they are old.

Mari: Gold! Really?

Paul: I wish! They are old. Over a hundred years old.

Mari: Wow! That is interesting. How do you know that?

Paul: On each cup there are a lot of details, like names, dates, sport events and the name of a school. See?

Mari: It is a little hard to see in the photograph. Anyone famous?

Paul: No, but the school is very, very famous. It is in England.

Mari: So, did you contact the school?

Paul: Yes, I did. They kindly gave me some information about the people who won the cups. They will help me find the families, too.

Mari: Is that right? You should get a prize for recycling, I think.

Paul: Very funny.

Mari: What will you do with them? Sell them?

Paul: I will keep one and try to return the others.

Mari: Can I see them before you do?

Paul: I will need to clean them first. Silver needs to be polished. Bye, Mari!

Mari: Silver? Silver!! Wow! Hey, Paul, next time you go to a flea market, please take me with you!
